Message from the Chair

Dear valued supporters of ICARE,

Your generous support continues to transform lives, helping the most vulnerable to move out of the cycle of poverty. Over the last year, more than 2,700 disadvantaged women, youth and children across 12 communities in India, Kenya, the Philippines, Thailand and Uganda, benefited from your generosity.

I am pleased to highlight some of the opportunities your support has provided. At the Neelbagh School in Karnataka, India, teacher training has resulted in 100% of the school's final year students passing the state exams – this compares very favourably against the 82% average across the state. In the Rift Valley, Kenya, courses offered by the Piave Youth Polytechnic now include motor vehicle mechanics, tailoring, metalwork, hairdressing and beauty therapy, carpentry and joinery, and electronics. This year alone, enrolments are up almost 70%. The children at five schools in Surin province, northern Thailand, are now learning English from trained teachers. In the Philippines, your donations have funded the renovation of school buildings and community health clinics, the construction of a new classroom and school canteen, and the provision of health services. These initiatives have provided a vastly improved learning environment and better health outcomes for children in a number of communities in La Union, Northern Philippines, as well as in Metro Manila. And in Uganda, computers purchased for the Comprehensive College Kitetika in Kampala has reduced the computer-to-student ratio from 1:127 to 1:20.

ICARE continues its work with local partners to identify and focus on program outcomes which have the greatest social impact. We are now well advanced in transitioning from a child sponsorship organisation to one which supports community-centred education programs, the latter being proven to be more effective in achieving positive and lasting change in the communities we work with.

We have implemented a new computer system which has streamlined our operational processes. This will result in greater savings which can be passed on to programs in the field. While stronger for the organisational reforms already undertaken, much remains to be done. The next couple of years will be challenging for ICARE. Following a 20% fall in donations this year, we have strengthened our fundraising capability, are broadening our corporate reach, and reducing expenditure without compromising the quality of our work. Your ongoing support and advocacy will be vital to these efforts and we will continue to engage you on this journey.

On behalf of the ICARE Board of Directors and team, and the women, youth and children who have benefited from your generosity, I thank you – our donors, volunteers, pro bono suppliers, corporate sponsors and friends – for your continued support.

- ICARE does not support or engage in any non-development related activities.
- Development assistance will be given to people regardless of their political or religious beliefs.
- Funds raised for education and development will not be used to exploit people and communities who are vulnerable and will not place any conditions or obligations on recipients in terms of non-development, religious or political outcomes that will affect their access to the services being offered.

Statement of Ethics & Conduct

ICARE abides by a Code of Ethics and Conduct which is mandatory for all its Directors, employees and volunteers. The Code includes the following:

- the integrity of ICARE, and that of the people who represent it, must be beyond challenge or reproach in every dealing undertaken for or on behalf of the organisation;
- ICARE's policies and procedures explicitly prohibit unethical behaviour or actions in all its forms;
- · ICARE must, at all times, comply with its policies and procedures and all applicable laws;
- Directors and employees of ICARE must ensure that their personal financial activities do not cause them to compromise their professional judgment;
- Directors and employees of ICARE are to avoid circumstances in which their personal interests conflict, or may appear to conflict, with the interests of the organisation;
- any departure from the Code is to be informed to the General Manager or any Director of ICARE; and
- ICARE employees have a duty to safeguard confidential information, which may come to their possession during their day-to-day work.

Fundraising at ICARE

ICARE is committed to ensuring that fundraising activities are carried out in absolute ethical manner. The Marketing and Communications Sub-Committee advises the ICARE Board on major fundraising activities which are pre-approved by the Board based on financial analyses of the activities / campaigns.

ICARE is implementing a new Fundraising and Marketing plan which aims to increase awareness, raise funds and secure the financial stability of the organisation as it transitions from child sponsorship fundraising activities to community development focused activities.

Total funds raised in 2014/15 where $366,071 compared to $458,786 in 2013/14, a variance of 20.2%. This variance was largely due to a decline in regular support as the organisation transitions to a community development focus.

Future Strategy

ICARE has set the following objectives under its Business Plan 2016-2018:

- enhance its reputation as an organisation with robust program management and good governance and which achieves high quality development outcomes;
- increase revenue to about $650,000 in FY 2018;
- reduce expenditure to around 30% of revenue by end FY 2018.

A key priority under the Business Plan is for ICARE to become accredited to the Australian NGO Cooperation Program (ANCP) by early 2017. We are positioning ourselves for accreditation by introducing new policies, procedures and ways of working. They reflect best practice for organisations working in the international development space and will help us to consistently achieve high quality development outcomes and impacts through our work. Becoming accredited with the ANCP will help improve project effectiveness at ICARE.

ICARE will be more focused in the education projects we support. This increases the likelihood of achieving the critical mass required for the changes necessary to move communities out of poverty and onto better life pathways. A potential consequence of this is the reduction in the number of projects we support. This may have an effect on the number of countries we work in and the number of partners we work with.

ICARE will explore partnerships with similar organisations which focus on complementary and mutually-reinforcing areas such as health, infrastructure, water and sanitation, and employment-creation / livelihoods. ICARE will also explore partnerships with other education-focused organisations to jointly implement activities. These partnerships will facilitate a more holistic approach to development, create synergies for greater outcomes and impacts for disadvantaged communities, and improve cost-effectiveness and efficiencies.

ICARE is investing more resources into strengthening our fundraising capacity. We will focus on improving donor retention and re-activation and secure upgrades in regular giving. Growing and diversifying both our donor base and non-financial supporter base is a priority. Another is improving our engagement with current donors and supporters.

To reduce expenditure, ICARE is focusing on our two largest expenses – staff and office-related expenses – and to achieving cost-effectiveness and efficiencies through partnerships. Staff-related expenses will be addressed by reviewing the ICARE staffing structure. The objective is to establish a new staffing structure which will most effectively undertake ICARE's work program in line with expenditure targets, but without compromising the quality of our work. Office-related expenses will be addressed by transitioning to a more cost-effective office arrangement.

ICARE will also prioritise the completion of its transition to more automated cloud-based administration systems. This will improve efficiencies and effectiveness around donor management, volunteer management, payments, forecasting and reporting. Greater efficiencies, together with an increase in revenue, will enable the allocation of a larger percentage of our revenue to funding programs. This will enable us to show value for money to our stakeholders.

Update of Projects for FY 2015

In FY 2015, ICARE invested in projects which benefited over 2,700 women, children and youth across 12 educational institutions in 12 communities in India, Kenya, the Philippines, Thailand and Uganda.

Project: Teacher Training and Development at the Neelbagh School in Karnataka State, India Partner: Ashraya (http://www.ashraya-india.org/)

This project seeks to strengthen the knowledge and skills of teachers at the Neelbagh School (http://www.ashraya.net/subpages/Neelbagh.html) in Karnataka state, India, so they can improve the quality of education provided to their students. The school is located near Madanpally, about 100 kms from Bangalore. Established in 1996 by Ashraya, ICARE's NGO partner in India, the school is the only one of its kind in India catering for the children of disadvantaged migrant labour communities. The school offers classes from Lower Kindergarten to Class 10 (Year 10). It follows the Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) syllabus. A large component of its curriculum centres on practical vocational training.

In FY 2015, the project trained the school's teachers on the state's new curricula for Language, Science and Mathematics, and on more effective teaching strategies and techniques.

- Teachers at the school have improved their ability to teach the new state curricula for Language, Science and Mathematics, as well as to apply teaching strategies and techniques which are more conducive to learning.
- Students at the school continue to achieve better results relative to other students in the state. In FY 2015, and for the seventh consecutive year, students at the school sitting for the Class 10 SSLC achieved a 100% pass rate, significantly higher than the 82% pass rate across the state. Two-thirds of the students achieved higher than the average state score for their SSLC examinations.

Project: 'Ujuzi Kwa Vijana'—Youth with Skills, Piave community, Rift Valley, Kenya Partner: Health Missions Development Service (http://www.hmds.or.ke/)

This project is being implemented through the Piave Youth Polytechnic (PYP) situated in Piave, a disadvantaged community in the Rift Valley region. PYP seeks to empower youth through providing accessible, appropriate and quality training in technical, vocational, industrial, entrepreneurship and life skills.

In FY 2015, the project purchased textbooks, computers and other equipment for students to undertake vocational training courses on motor vehicle mechanics, tailoring and dressmaking, metalwork, hairdressing and beauty therapy, carpentry and joinery and electronics. The project also established a 'Girl-Child Club' in Piave which supports and empowers women and girls to make a difference in their lives and in the wider community.

- Since the project started in January 2015, PYP has increased the number of vocational training courses it offers from two to six, providing students with greater options for study.
- PYP has increased access to education for the community through raising its student intake for the vocational training courses by almost 70% since the project started. This exceeds the 10% increase in student intake which was initially anticipated.
- Once PYP completes the upgrade of its computer laboratory in September 2015, it will have new and more computers available for students' use and provide students with access to the internet. This strengthens PYP as a learning environment.
- The project has improved the learning environment for students by purchasing much needed textbooks and equipment. Previously, for example, as many as five students shared a textbook and teachers did not have the required equipment to effectively teach students.
- The 'Girl-Child Club' has given women and girls in the community a forum in which they can confidently discuss issues relevant to them and receive support from their peers, as well as plan and act together on a range of matters affecting their lives.

Project: Adopt a School (Sucoc Norte Elementary School and Sucoc Norte Community), Philippines Partner: Haligi ng Bata, Inc (HBI) Philippines

This project is helping the Sucoc Norte Elementary (primary) School and the Sucoc Norte community (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Y12PROR3BBM) to improve the health, education, and livelihood status of close to 100 school children and about 150 community members. Sucoc Norte is a disadvantaged community in the municipality of Luna in La Union province, Northern Philippines.

In FY 2015, the project made improvements to the school building, constructed a new classroom and school canteen, and conducted several activities aimed at improving student learning.

Key outcomes of the project:

- The refurbishment of three classrooms and construction of a new classroom has improved the learning environment of the school. The classroom spaces are more conducive to learning and class sizes have been reduced. Further, the classrooms are now able to withstand typhoons, a regular occurrence in the Philippines.
 During typhoons, communities like Sucoc Norte often use schools as safe shelters for their community members.
- The construction of the school canteen has given students a safe and healthy place to eat. With better health, students are in a better position to maximise their potential in school. The canteen also functions as a classroom for Home Economics subjects where school children are taught personal hygiene and nutrition, household chores and food preparation.
- The improvements to the school have incentivized students to attend classes. The student attendance rate in the six months since the project started in January 2015 is close to 100%.

Project: Health, Education and Thriving Vocational Education (Heed and Thrive), Philippines Partner: Haligi ng Bata, Inc (HBI) Philippines

This project supports schools across three disadvantaged communities in the Philippines – the Adelfa community in Navotas municipality in Metro Manila, and the Seng-ngat and Castro villages in Sudipen municipality in La Union province in Northern Philippines. The aim of the project is to improve the schooling, health, and livelihoods status of at least 300 children and 200 members who live in these impoverished communities.

In FY 2015, the project improved the facilities of the schools and health clinics within the communities and provided medicines and other resources. The project also established and trained health committees and supported them to deliver health services to school children and community members, as well as to provide training on matters such as proper nutrition, good food handling, waste management, reproductive health, and first aid and CPR.

- With improved facilities, the schools are now more effective learning environments for the school children.
- The work of the health committees has helped improve the health of the communities. This has contributed to a reduction in children's absences from school for health-related reasons. Healthier children should mean greater ability to concentrate at school and maximise their learning potential.
- The health clinics have reported a 40% increase in community members accessing their services, as well as improvements in their responses to the health needs of the community.

Project: Youth Education and School Support

Partner: International Care and Relief Foundation (ICRF) Thailand

(http://www.icrthai.org/ICR%20English/who.htm)

This project provided school uniforms and materials (books, pens, etc) to over 100 children across five schools (Ban Kokelao-Nonglek, Ban Ei-Sod, Ban Nongphaya, Ban Kraoom and Ban Sangkae) in Surin province in northern Thailand. The project also provided teachers with training on the newly-introduced English Language curriculum.

Key outcomes of the project:

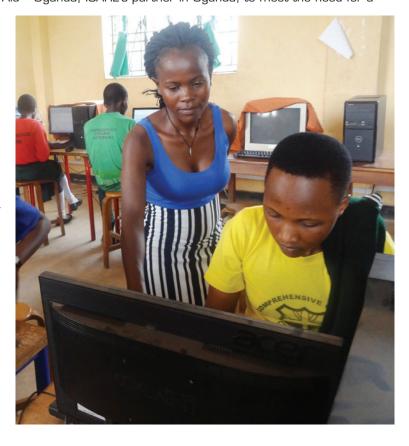

- By covering the cost of their school uniforms and school materials in FY 2015, over 100 children were assisted to receive an education.
- Teachers improved their knowledge and skills in the newly-introduced English Language curriculum, thereby strengthening the schools as educational institutions.
- Children at the five schools received English lessons from trained teachers.

Project: Information Technology Education Skills Development for the Youth, Uganda Partner: ABC Children's Aid – Uganda (http://abcuganda.org/)

This project in Uganda supported the Comprehensive College Kitetika (CCK) (http://abcuganda.org/abc-education/) to become compliant with Uganda's national IT education curriculum. The project refurbished IT facilities and purchased IT equipment for CCK and is helping to provide IT training to students and to out-of-school women and youth. The College is situated in Kitetika village on the outskirts of Kampala, the capital of Uganda. It was established in 2002 by ABC Children's Aid – Uganda, ICARE's partner in Uganda, to meet the need for a secondary school in this impoverished part of the country. The College maintains an enrolment of 800-900 students, many of whom have been touched by HIV / AIDS in one way or another. One of the project's trainers is Dorothy Nalwadda, a former beneficiary of an ICARE education program and now the owner of Sky Hi Technologies, an IT company in Uganda.

- CCK is now compliant with Uganda's national IT education curriculum.
- Students have improved access to better computers and IT facilities. The computerto-student ratio was reduced from 1:127 to 1:20. Access to the internet was also secured. These initiatives contributed to improving the learning environment for students.
- Out-of-school women and youth have access to IT vocational skills training, increasing their chances of gaining employment and improving livelihood prospects.
- The project provided teachers with training on IT teaching methods. This contributed to the teachers delivering better learning outcomes, thus strengthening the College as an educational institution.

Case Studies

Faith Njeri, Principal, Piave Youth Polytechnic

"My name is Faith Njeri and I am the Principal at Piave Youth Polytechnic (YP) in Nakuru County, Kenya. The YP was conceived by the community to deal with rising youth unemployment and antisocial behaviour among youth."

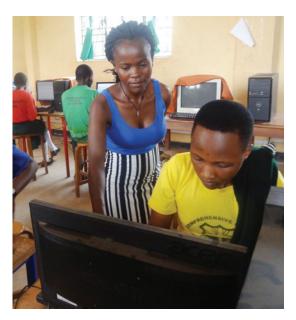

Skills development in Kenya is important to spur economic development, mitigate poverty and enhance social inclusion. Despite the important role they can play in addressing youth unemployment, YPs across Kenya continue to be underfunded and overlooked – low quality trainers and the lack of teaching and learning tools are some of the problems they face.

"The Youth with Skills Project funded by ICARE involves activities to address the onerous challenges faced by the Piave YP and the local community. The project helps address the lack of teaching-learning tools at Piave YP, it provides entrepreneurship training and start-up support for businesses, and establishes 'Girl-Child clubs' to facilitate support and mentoring of young girls."

To date, the project has seen an enrolment increase at Piave YP of more than 50%, funded the upgrade and refurbishment of teaching and learning facilities including of the computer laboratory which will connect the YP to the internet, and established a 'Girl-Child club' in the community.

"As I compare our YP's humble beginnings – when we were housed in two temporary mud / stick and tin built rooms – to how far we have come now and the positive impact it has had, I can't help but say how excited, happy and hopeful the entire Piave community is!"

Dorothy Nalwadda, ICARE-ABC Alumna, ABC Primary School Kitetika

Dorothy is proof of what the power of a quality education can achieve in empowering young people to fulfil their potential and move out of poverty.

Here's Dorothy's story...

Dorothy Nalwadda, started out in a life of poverty. Born into a family of five children, she grew up in a farming village in the Rakai district in rural Uganda. As a girl, she was not permitted to go to school, and was confined to work on the family farm.

"My father was a farmer so he needed help on the farm. None of the girls was allowed to go to school as we had to work on the farm."

At the age of 6, tragedy struck when of both of her parents died. She and her siblings moved in with their auntie and her five children. Dorothy's auntie was able to secure places for Dorothy and three of her siblings through an ICARE program at the ABC School. Dorothy thrived at school. After completing school, she went on to establish her own IT company.

Without your help, Dorothy would be living a very different life today. Your support has given her a quality education which has enabled her to establish her own IT company. She is able to support her extended family and move out of her previous life of poverty. She has the chance to fulfil her dreams for the company and the world is her oyster!

"Our vision is to become one of the top website designers / software developers in Uganda."

But what is most impressive is that Dorothy is giving back by empowering people through education. She does this by teaching IT part time at the Comprehensive College Kitetika, which is being supported by ICARE through your generous donations.

"I am able to educate others, motivate fellow youth to become software engineers."

"For the first time since I started my schooling, I am able to attend classes with proper learning materials. Since my parents only earn about $2 a day as farmers and stone-pickers, we cannot afford to buy school supplies ourselves," says 9 year old Mary Joy from the Philippines.

The ICARE-supported Adopt-a-School Project addresses the challenge of poor student and school performance due to inadequate school services and infrastructure, undernourished children, and the lack of opportunities for parents and families due to financial constraints.

"I am excited to go to school because the Adopt-a-School project is helping my classmates and I to improve our school and our education and give us hope for the future."

This enthusiasm from the students has led to almost zero absences in the first six months of 2015. To date, the project has constructed the school's first canteen, built and refurbished classrooms and introduced sustainable health services to the community.

"My mother has also volunteered as a Health Committee member for the project. She believes that her cooking skills will help feed undernourished children in my school. She tries to hide it but I know how happy she is to be part of this project."

(a) Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE)

Leasehold improvements and office equipment are carried at cost less, where applicable, any accumulated depreciation.

The depreciable amount of all PPE is depreciated over the useful lives of the assets to the company commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

Leasehold improvements are amortised over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements.

(b) Impairment of Assets

At the end of each reporting period, the entity reviews the carrying values of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, is compared to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to the income statement.

(c) Employee Benefits

Provision is made for the company's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to the end of the reporting period. Employee benefits have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled.

(d) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the company has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reasonably measured. Provisions are measured at the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.

(e) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

INTERNATIONAL CHRISTIAN AID RELIEF ENTERPRISES LIMITED ABN 16 002 516 485

Notes to the Financial Statements For the year ended 30 June 2015

(f) Revenue and Other Income

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable after taking into account any trade discounts and volume rebates allowed. For this purpose, deferred consideration is not discounted to present values when recognising revenue.

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest rate method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument. Dividend revenue is recognised when the right to receive a dividend has been established.

Grant and donation income is recognised when the entity obtains control over the funds, which is generally at the time of receipt.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST).

(g) Leases

Leases of PPE, where substantially all the risks and benefits incidental to the ownership of the asset, but not the legal ownership, are transferred to the company, are classified as finance leases.

Finance leases are capitalised by recording an asset and a liability at the lower of the amounts equal to the fair value of the leased property or the present value of the minimum lease payments, including any guaranteed residual values. Lease payments are allocated between the reduction of the lease liability and the lease interest expense for that period.

Leased assets are depreciated on a straight line basis over the shorter of their estimated useful lives or the lease term. Lease payments for operating leases, where substantially all the risks and benefits remain with the lessor, are charged as expenses in the period in which they are incurred.

(h) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Tax Office. In these circumstances, the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense. Receivables and payables in the assets and liabilities statement are shown inclusive of GST.

(i) Trade and Other Payables

Trade and other payables represent the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period for goods and services received by the company during the reporting period, which remain unpaid. The balance is recognised as a current liability with the amounts normally paid within 30 days of recognition of the liability.

(j) Taxation

The company is a public benevolent institution and has received the following tax concessions:

- GST concession
- FBT exemption
- Income Tax exemption
- Deductible Gift Recipient Status.

In Note 2, the directors also state, in accordance with Accounting Standard AASB 101: Presentation of Financial Statements, that the financial statements comply with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

Auditor's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Those standards require that I comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Independence

In conducting my audit, I have complied with the independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001. I confirm that the independence declaration required by the Corporations Act 2001, which has been given to the directors of the company, would be in the same terms if given to the directors as at the time of this auditor's report.
